

2023 New Housing Fee Report
Community Development Department
City Planning
January 2024

Introduction

In 2018, the Wisconsin Legislature enacted Act 243 requiring municipalities in Wisconsin to complete a New Housing Fee Report no later than January 1, 2020. This requirement was created within Wisconsin Statute 66.10014. Under Act 243, the New Housing Fee Report must identify the amount of any of the following municipal fees imposed on new residential construction, remodeling or development:

- Building Permit Fee
- Impact Fee(s)
- Park Land Fee
- Land Dedication Requirement or Fee in lieu of Land Dedication
- Plat Approval Fee
- Stormwater Management Fee
- Water and Sewer Connection Fee

Act 243 provided a formula to calculate municipal development fees including, “the total amount of fees that the municipality imposed for purposes related to residential construction, remodeling, or development in the prior year and an amount calculated by dividing the total amount of fees under this paragraph by the number of new residential dwelling units approved in the municipality in the prior year.”¹ It is important to note that the total fees collected under statute include remodeling, but under the statutory formula, the total fees collected are divided by only the new residential dwelling units approved.

Analysis

The City of Eau Claire Community Development staff reviewed the 2023 permit data provided through our records. For 2023, the City of Eau Claire permitted 944 new housing units, including 42 new single units, 80 two family units, 822 apartment units.

Considering the existing housing stock within Eau Claire, it is important to note the housing units that obtained a residential addition or remodeling permits, which under the statutory language are to be included in the total fee amount, but not in the number of residential units in the formula.

Conclusion

The building permit fees do add a cost to the overall price of housing units within the City of Eau Claire. However, the permit fees are by no means out of line with other development costs to similar sized cities in the state. The relatively small average permit fees are in place to cover the time for City of Eau Claire employees to properly review the plans and inspect the new or remodeled or addition to the homes to ensure compliance with building codes and to preserve life, health, and safety of the community. In the case of Eau Claire, which does not have impact fees nor parkland dedication fee, staff will continue to monitor the fee schedule accordingly.
