Eau Claire Police Department

2012 Annual Report

welcome

CHIEF JERRY MATYSIK

Welcome to the 2012 Eau Claire Police Department Annual report.

All organizations are constantly striving to manage change. The Eau Claire Police Department is no exception. Numerous retirements occurred in 2011, which had a significant impact on our ability to staff appropriately. Despite the shortage, we have managed to hire quality employees and are now at full staff. During 2012 we hired 11 new police officers, two telecommunicators, and four Community Service Officers. In addition, we re-evaluated our current workflow and transferred a Law Enforcement Support Assistant position to a second Property Technician position. This helped balance our work needs.

We are now involved in changing the physical structure of the department. We are in the beginning stages of a remodeling project within the Law Enforcement Center. Throughout 2013 we will be transitioning toward co-locating the Police Department with the Eau Claire County Sheriff's Office in a remodeled space within the Courthouse building complex. This change will improve our ability to accomplish our Department's mission and improve coordination between these two agencies.

Substance abuse continues to be a major challenge for our community and contributes to crime and disorder. Although we experienced a higher than average number of homicides in 2012, we were able to clear these crimes through arrests. Despite these incidents, I am pleased to note that overall crime is trending lower, and the 2012 crime statistics for the City of Eau Claire were the third lowest when compared over the past 34 years (the lowest reported crime statistics occurred in 2009). In fact, most of the lowest annual crime statistics over the past 34 years have occurred since 2005. I strongly believe that this good news is a result of utilizing progressive evidence-based crime prevention strategies.

Crime prevention requires healthy partnerships between the police and the community. The Eau Claire Police Department strives to build community-based relationships which further our mission. The Eau Claire Police Department mission statement reads as follows:

"The mission of the Eau Claire Police Department is to enhance the quality of life in Eau Claire by partnering with the community to solve problems, reduce crime and disorder, safeguard individual rights, and improve public safety."

Finally, I would like to thank the City Manager, the City Council, and the Police and Fire Commission for their continued support.

Officer Robert Bolton

30TH ANNIVERSARY COMMEMORATION

On October 6, 2012 current and former members of the Eau Claire Police Department gathered to honor Officer Robert P. Bolton on the thirtieth anniversary of his death. Officer Bolton was a four year veteran of the Eau Claire Police Department when he was killed in the line of duty at age 28 on October 6, 1982 while responding to a domestic abuse incident.

A commemoration ceremony was led by Chief Jerry Matysik and former Eau Claire Police Lieutenant and retired University of Wisconsin—Eau Claire Police Chief David Backstrom. During the commemoration ceremony, a carved eagle sculpture was presented to Officer Bolton's family. This sculpture was carved from a tree that had been planted on the University of Wisconsin—Eau Claire campus. The tree was ultimately removed in order to allow for construction of the new W.R. Davies Center.

During the ceremony, Chief Jerry Matysik awarded the Chief's Gold Coin to Officer Robert P. Bolton posthumously, for acts of exemplary performance and bravery. Three coins were presented to Officer Bolton's widow, Lynn Bolton BeBeau, and his children, Kara and David.

Finally, a memorial stone in Officer Bolton's memory was rededicated on the Police Department grounds. The stone, which had originally been dedicated on the grounds, had been removed due to the construction and remodeling of the Law Enforcement Center. It now sits prominently on the hillside overlooking West Grand Avenue and is a constant reminder of those who make the ultimate sacrifice.

Thirty years have come and gone, but Officer Bolton's memory lives on.

DEPUTY CHIEF CHAD HOYORD

Approximately half of the employees working for the Eau Claire Police Department are assigned to the Patrol Division. The Patrol Division is staffed using five distinct shifts. Three of the shifts reflect the traditional day, afternoon and midnight shifts. Two overlap shifts complement these traditional shifts and allow the division to have adequate coverage at times of peak calls for service within the City.

The Patrol Division suffered a shortage in staffing after a number of police officers retired in 2010 and 2011. In 2012, 11 police officers were hired. With additional new hires on the horizon, we anticipate the Patrol Division will be at full staff in early 2013. This will not only allow the Department to have adequate staffing, but will also allow the reinstatement of the Special Operations Section (SOS), a small team of officers who work to address specific quality of life issues. SOS provides a flexible response that can be moved to any area of the community as needed.

In 2006, our Patrol Division was restructured by dividing the City into three specific geographic districts (North, Central, and South). One Lieutenant, three Sergeants and 18 police officers work within each district. The individual districts are further broken down into six separate areas in which the 18 police officers are assigned a specific "beat." Each officer is assigned to a beat for an entire year and works on community and quality of life issues within that district. Each District identifies specific goals for the year, while officers, in turn, identify projects within their district that will help them successfully reach their goals. A number of these projects are listed on the following page.

In addition to the three major districts and SOS, the Eau Claire Police Department assigns one of its officers to a Patrol Investigator position. This officer is responsible for follow-up investigations involving traffic crashes and ordinance violations and also conducts background investigations on applicants applying for positions within the Department.

Community Service Officers (CSOs) are civilian employees who are cross-trained in parking and animal control duties. The CSOs are also assigned to fingerprint and photograph subjects, validate stolen property records, and assist with miscellaneous courier duties.

During 2012, the North District officers worked with the Parks and Recreation Department to identify certain demographic improvements that could help reduce criminal behavior within City parks. Controlling the flow of traffic within the parks, combined with enforcement action, has resulted in the parks becoming more appealing to families and has allowed the community to feel more comfortable using these parks. The parks will continue to be monitored and improvements will be made as needed.

Because the North District contains several major highways, public schools, and a large residential area, officers within this district are also concentrating efforts on speed enforcement.

The Central District has been working with the Eau Claire Academy to reduce the number of juveniles running away from their facility. These runaways are often responsible for crimes committed within our community. Several meetings occurred throughout 2012 and officers within the Central District will continue to work on this project.

The university also falls within the Central District and certain quality of life issues result from student life. Central District officers use proactive approaches such as foot patrol, bike patrol, and partnering with business owners to address quality of life issues that arise. Officers also work collaboratively with residents, landlords, the University of Wisconsin—Eau Claire, and the Chippewa Valley Technical College to maintain nice neighborhoods.

The South District has been actively working with large retail stores within the district to address retail theft. These partnerships have proven to be successful and procedural changes were developed that have allowed the retail theft processes to not only become more efficient, but also to reduce calls for service.

Officers within the South District also identified panhandling as a problematic issue. Panhandlers were targeting passersby on street corners as well as in businesses districts. This activity created traffic concerns and garbage accumulation. Officers studied this issue and discovered that several of the participants were posing as homeless, when in fact, they were not. Officers educated both the businesses in the area as well as the community at large and provided advice on how to reduce panhandling.

DEPUTY CHIEF GERALD STANISZEWSKI

The Eau Claire Police Department Detective Division is comprised of 15 detectives supervised by three Sergeants, one Lieutenant and one Deputy Chief.

Cases that are referred to the Detective Division are reviewed and prioritized. Follow-up assignments are made based on the nature of the crime, the presence of potential leads, and the current caseload. The division supervisors review approximately 14,000 cases each year. 1,464 cases were assigned for follow-up investigation in 2012. 1,101 of those investigations led to a successful conclusion, resulting in a 76% clearance rate for cases that were assigned to a detective.

2012 was a particularly busy year for the Detective Division. Major case investigations included four homicide investigations, two missing persons cases, two fatal fires, two federal drug cases, and a 60 count sexual abuse investigation involving a local pediatrician. Members of the Detective Division received the Chief's Gold Coin award for their investigative efforts which led to a 100% clearance rate of these major case investigations.

Three detectives are responsible for investigating crimes against persons, such as robbery, homicide, battery, sexual assault, and property crimes such as burglary, theft, and criminal damage.

One sergeant and two detectives are assigned to this task force in order to assist in the investigation of illicit drug activity in the Chippewa Valley. The task force is comprised of investigators from several law enforcement agencies in the area. For over 20 years, this regional collaboration has proven to be a very effective approach for disrupting and dismantling regional drug trafficking organizations.

Two detectives are responsible for investigating crimes such as fraud, forgery, embezzlement, internal theft, counterfeiting, identity theft, and a wide variety of scams where the victims are targeted for their financial assets.

sensitive crimes

Two detectives are responsible for investigating cases involving child victims of abuse, neglect, sexual assault and child pornography or child enticement. A third detective is primarily responsible for conducting forensic examination of computers and other digital media.

digital forensic examiner

Due to the rapid increase of use of computers to facilitate crime, there is a need to examine digital evidence. Digital evidence is most commonly discovered during investigations of child pornography, child enticement, drug trafficking, financial crimes, and has, at times, been critical in homicide investigations.

The Eau Claire Police Department is the lead agency in the Chippewa Valley Regional Computer Forensics Lab. There is one full time and four part time investigators from three different law enforcement agencies working cooperatively together to analyze computer devices.

Four detectives are assigned to the five secondary public schools in Eau Claire. These liaison officers are responsible for investigating juvenile crime, counseling and mentoring students, and conducting educational presentations in the schools. These officers also become involved in school disciplinary matters.

One detective administers polygraph exams to assist other detectives, both from our agency and agencies in the surrounding area, to verify the truthfulness of potential suspects. This detective is also involved in processing and preserving evidence, coordinating evidence transmittals to crime laboratories in the State of Wisconsin and at the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and working to ensure local pawnbrokers comply with City of Eau Claire regulations.

The 2012 Detective Division is presented with the Chief's Gold Coin.

administrative services

DIRECTOR KRISTIN SOUTHARD

The Administrative Services Division of the Eau Claire Police Department is comprised of the Court Services, Records, and Property and Evidence sections. The Director of Administration is responsible for managing the previously listed sections as well as the Police Department's $15 million budget, applying for and managing federal, state and local grants, and overseeing and implementing all types of technology projects being pursued by the Department.

The Court Officer serves numerous essential functions. The officer is a liaison between the Police Department and offices of the Eau Claire County District Attorney, Juvenile Intake, Corporation Counsel, Clerk of Courts, City Attorney, State Lab of Hygiene, and other area law enforcement agencies. This officer is also the representative of the Police Department for citizens who have questions or concerns about citations they have received and/or procedures that must be followed to properly dispose of their citations.

The Court Officer assists the City Attorney's Office by coordinating all initial appearances in traffic and ordinance court. Additionally, the Court Officer assists the attorneys with pre-trial conferences, coordinates witnesses for trials in the court, and is also responsible for documenting all court-related dispositions. When changes in law, statutes, or operating procedures occur, the Court Officer advises all personnel affected by the revisions.

The following statistics reflect the 2012 forfeiture, traffic, and ordinance citations that are handled by the City. Citations issued for, or in conjunction with, criminal charges are not included, as these citations are handled by the Eau Claire County District Attorney's Office.

When reviewing the accompanying data regarding citations and their disposition, please understand that the numbers are approximate. Figures are kept per calendar year and are based on records at each phase of the citation and prosecution process. Cases are not individually tracked to allow adjustment for those that cross calendar years, therefore citations issued in one year may receive a pretrial in the following year, or a case pretried in one year may be set for trial a couple of months later, wrapping into the next year and thereby affecting a single year's totals.

The Records Section of the Eau Claire Police Department is comprised of one full-time Records Bureau Technician, seven full-time Law Enforcement Support Assistants (LESAs), and one part-time typist who:

- Handle the receipt, verification, and entry of data for all police incident reports, accident reports, arrest records, traffic citations and ordinance arrests, as well as the scanning of any paper documents related to these areas
- Maintain criminal information records related to fingerprints and mug shots
- Provide information to other agencies who work directly with the Department, such as the District Attorney's Office, Probation and Parole, and the Department of Human Services
- Serve as the first-line representatives of the Department for all inquiries by citizens for police related information regarding documents, photographs, interviews or videos
- Serve as the central resource center for others within the Department seeking records or information necessary for the completion of their activities

Records personnel are responsible for maintaining the following records generated by the Department:

- All incident reports and narratives
- Photographs
- Arrest records
- Juvenile referrals
- Ordinance and traffic citations
- Fingerprints
- Mug shots
- Accident reports
- Digital audio and video recordings
- Squad car video
- Field contacts
- Written warnings

These items amount to over 100,000 separate records that must be entered into the records management system. These records are maintained in either electronic, digital, or paper form in the Records Section for a minimum of seven years.

Personnel within the Records Section must know how to utilize several types of computer hardware and software programs such as document imaging (to store and retrieve incident reports), digital mug shots, digital recorders, digital narrative transcription, incident photographs, Live Scan fingerprinting, software for online purchasing of select accident reports, as well as an online parking ticket program.

Records Section personnel are cross-trained in order to fulfill other job duties as needed. All members of the Records Section are able to process court work for arrestees, complete Detective and Patrol Division incident report typing, and fulfill public records requests. The Records Section also maintains and manages the Department's public service window.

The Property and Evidence Technicians are responsible for the secure storage of evidence that is turned in to, collected, or seized by the Eau Claire Police Department. These types of items come from criminal cases and consist of everything from the smallest DNA samples to large vehicles as well as illegal drugs, guns and currency. Evidence is held in three separate storage facilities within the City of Eau Claire. The Property Technicians also handle lost and found items which are generally stored in the Department's Property Room.

The Property Technicians are responsible for the disposition of all property and evidence collected. Depending upon the type of property or evidence, disposition is handled in one of the following ways:

- Returned to owner
- Sent to other agencies
- Held by the Court
- Destroyed either by the Eau Claire Police Department or by the State Crime Laboratory
- Sold through auction at PropertyRoom.com

The Property Technicians are also responsible for the following:

- Storage and management of department weapons and officer equipment
- Interacting with the State Crime Laboratory regarding the proper custody and testing of evidence
- Ordering departmental supplies, departmental reports, patrol equipment and medical supplies
- Maintaining an orderly storage area at the Police Department as well as proper maintenance of the off-site storage facilities

The Property Technicians work closely with the Eau Claire County District Attorney's Office, the Chippewa County District Attorney's Office, and the United States Attorney General's Office regarding the chain of evidence needed to ensure a successful prosecution. The Property Technicians also coordinate with other law enforcement agencies that have collected evidence related to their cases from various locations within the City of Eau Claire.

LIEUTENANT JIM SOUTHWORTH

The Special Services Bureau is a branch of the Eau Claire Police Department staffed by the Lieutenant of Special Services, two sworn officers (Community Relations Officer and Safety Education Officer), one Training Technician, one Crime Analyst, and two grant funded positions. The Special Services Bureau continues to partner with area media, local elementary schools, after school programs and many other departments within the City to help facilitate services to our community.

The Eau Claire Police Department prides itself on receiving advanced training in specialized areas. The Special Services Bureau is responsible for identifying appropriate training and registering Department personnel for that training. Annual Department in-service training is also coordinated by the Special Services Bureau. The Special Services Bureau also reviews and updates Department policies. Finally, two grant funded positions, the Eau Claire Coalition for Youth Project Coordinator and the Community Liaison, work with at-risk youth and families in low-to-moderate income areas within the City of Eau Claire.

community relations officer

The Community Relations Officer is primarily responsible for communicating with the news media and other groups on behalf of the Eau Claire Police Department. The partnership between the police department and local media has played an important role in getting information out to the community. The Community Relations Officer is also responsible for using social media to help reach a larger portion of our community.

In 2012, the Community Relations Officer was responsible for applying for and managing a specialized law enforcement grant which was issued through the Department of Transportation to address speed enforcement.

The Community Relations Officer also assists with parking ticket mediation, conducts background checks for various City license applications, photographs Department events, and assists with police officer recruitment at job fairs.

safety education officer

The Safety Education Officer is a valuable resource for Eau Claire's pre-school and elementary school children. This officer educates youth on numerous safety issues including: bicycle safety, bus safety, pedestrian safety, home safety, personal safety, and Internet safety. Much of the Safety Education Officer's time is spent in elementary schools, not only to teach safety, but also to ensure that young students' first contact with law enforcement will be a positive experience. It is the hope of the Eau Claire Police Department that this will have a positive impact on the outlook of these students during future contacts.

The Safety Education Officer continues to coordinate and oversee both the adult school crossing guards and the youth school safety patrollers. These programs provide staffing at dangerous intersections near schools.

The Safety Education Officer is also certified in child safety seat installations and participates in area safety fairs and other events to educate parents about the proper use of safety seats for their children. The Safety Education Officer also assists with parking ticket mediation, Court Officer duties, conducts Department tours and gives presentations on specific topics dealing with safety and awareness in our community.

The Training Technician is responsible for coordinating training for all members of the Eau Claire Police Department. The Wisconsin Department of Justice Training and Standards Bureau requires that sworn officers complete 24 hours of training per year and the Training Technician helps facilitate this.

The Training Technician is also the Department's coordinator for the TIME System, which enables law enforcement agencies to access multiple Wisconsin data sources for information essential to police operations (driver's and vehicle information, Wisconsin criminal history information, etc.). This system also provides an automated interface with the FBI's National Crime Information Center, which furnishes national criminal history record information.

Additional responsibilities of the Training Technician include the orientation of new employees, coordinating parking ticket mediation as well as tracking and auditing the educational incentive program.

Although this position was only created in 2008, the Crime Analyst has proven to be an integral component of the Eau Claire Police Department. Utilizing data generated by the Department, the Crime Analyst is able to identify and visualize crime related issues affecting our community. Essential functions of the Crime Analyst include data compilation and analysis, problem solving, written and visual compositions, and record maintenance. The Crime Analyst provides members of multiple divisions within the Department maps and analysis reports, identifying crime trends and quality of life issues occurring throughout the City. These analytical products help focus the efforts of our officers and assist with developing plans to target and prevent further criminal activity.

eau claire coalition for youth project coordinator

The Eau Claire Coalition for Youth Project Coordinator is responsible for facilitating meetings and disbursing information to public and private agencies that will assist area youth by providing social, recreational and other community services to youth in low-to-moderate income areas within the City of Eau Claire.

community liaison

The Community Liaison is a non-sworn grant funded position through the Eau Claire Hmong Mutual Assistance Association (ECHMAA) and acts as a liaison between the Hmong community and the Eau Claire Police Department. The Community Liaison provides assistance with language translation, expresses concerns on behalf of the Hmong community, and works closely with the Coalition for Youth Project Coordinator to provide police services to area Hmong youth and families. The Eau Claire Police Department is pleased to continue this partnership with the ECHMAA.

DIRECTOR PAM MCINNIS

The Eau Claire Communication Center is a county-wide center that dispatches for 14 separate police, fire and medical agencies. The 22-member staff is comprised of 21 full-time Telecommunicators, three of whom are also supervisors, and one Director.

During 2012, staff tracked 116,025 law enforcement, fire and/or EMS incidents in our Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) system. Telecommunicators handled nearly 181,000 telephone calls, of which 57,165 were emergency in nature. In addition, Telecommunicators responded to countless radio calls from field units and also assisted walk-in traffic.

The entire county of Eau Claire enjoys the benefits of fully enhanced 9-1-1 when using a landline phone. The enhanced 9-1-1 system supplies Telecommunicators with a caller's name, address and telephone number as soon as their 9-1-1 call is answered. Wireless enhanced 9-1-1 was implemented in 2006 and provides cellular telephone location information to the Telecommunicators. Wireless 9-1-1 calls account for over half of all our emergency calls. Voice Over Internet Protocol (VoIP) calls are a bit different. While these calls are delivered with identifying information, the accuracy or completeness of that information is contingent on what has been programmed into that device/system. In the case of all three types of 9-1-1 calls, even if the caller hangs up prior to the call being answered, the hang up call is still delivered along with the enhanced information.

Telecommunicators use the computer technology at their fingertips to enhance the quality of service provided to the community. Telecommunicators continually enter information into the CAD system, which is shared with field units both over the radio and through the computer. All seven law enforcement agencies in Eau Claire County, including the Eau Claire Police Department, have laptop computers in their vehicles. In addition to receiving information from the Communication Center, they use these computers to check local, state and national databases for information. The Eau Claire Fire Department medics and battalion chief also have laptops. This allows the Communication Center and field units to share a great deal of information, which often includes the history of prior contacts at an address.

The Communication Center staff utilizes a computerized version of the Emergency Medical Dispatch (EMD) cards to determine the appropriate level of Emergency Medical System (EMS) response. In addition to audio dispatch of recommended units to each incident, this EMD information is sent to the laptops as well. The Fire Department also receives all their runs, both Fire and EMS, immediately via fax machine to each station. Telecommunicators are often responsible for administering pre-arrival instructions on how to administer CPR, methods to stop bleeding, etc.

The Communication Center is also responsible for distributing severe weather watches and warnings to the citizens of Eau Claire County. The Telecommunicators have the responsibility of activating the sirens within each community in the event that a severe thunderstorm or tornado warning has been issued for their specific community.

The forensic examination of physical evidence is a critical element in police efforts to conduct successful criminal investigations and subsequent prosecutions. The forensic science field is ever-changing with improvements in DNA analysis, new processes for developing latent fingerprints, and innovations for documenting crime scenes. These scientific and technological breakthroughs have made it feasible to collect and analyze evidence that was never before thought possible.

The Eau Claire Police Department Crime Scene Unit consists of 25 police officers that have received additional training in the proper identification, collection, analysis, and documentation of forensic evidence. The Crime Scene Unit regularly responds to major crime scenes such as death investigations, burglaries, robberies, sexual assaults, and shootings.

In addition to responding to crime scenes, members of the Crime Scene Unit analyze physical evidence in the evidence laboratory. We are fortunate to have training and equipment that allow us to utilize Alternate Light Source (ALS) technology, advanced latent fingerprint identification techniques, advanced DNA collection methods, and specialized photography.

Technological advancements make the ongoing training of evidence technicians more important than ever. Every year several members of the Crime Scene Unit attend training sponsored by the Wisconsin State Crime Laboratory, Wisconsin Department of Justice, and other nationally recognized experts. This training is brought back to our community and shared with the remainder of the Eau Claire Police Department Crime Scene Unit and other regional law enforcement agencies.

The Eau Claire Police Department Crisis Negotiation Team is a team of officers who, in addition to their regular duties, are trained to talk with suicidal persons, barricaded persons, or hostage takers in high-risk situations, with the goal of resolving situations peacefully. Although negotiation is the preferred method of resolution, the Crisis Negotiation Team also works closely with the Eau Claire Police Department's Tactical Response Team.

The Eau Claire Police Department Crisis Negotiation Team is comprised of 14 Crisis Negotiators consisting of Eau Claire Police Department officers and FBI Special Agent Dave Fitzgerald. All members of the Crisis Negotiation Team have completed a Basic Hostage Negotiation Training Program and many have completed additional specialized training programs.

Members of the Crisis Negotiation Team meet quarterly for ongoing training. One of these quarterly training sessions is typically a large-scale scenario conducted with the Tactical Response Team.

The Honor Guard represents the Eau Claire Police Department in a positive and professional manner at law enforcement, public and private events. During our monthly trainings, Honor Guard members practice basic movements, various forms of group marching, flag folding, rifle salutes, casket carrying and funeral preparations.

In 2012 the Honor Guard participated in 20 events. Two of those events honored fallen Eau Claire Police Officer Robert P. Bolton, who was killed in the line of duty in 1982. The Honor Guard was fortunate enough to send four members to attend National Police Week in Washington, D.C. in May. The Honor Guard also participated in a special commemoration ceremony on October 6, 2012, the 30th anniversary of Officer Bolton's death. This ceremony was attended by Officer Bolton's wife and children, as well as current and retired members of the Eau Claire Police Department.

Another highlight of 2012 occurred when the Honor Guard presented the colors at the beginning of a Milwaukee Brewer's baseball game at Miller Park in Milwaukee.

The Eau Claire Police Department currently has one K-9 Unit, consisting of one officer and one dog. Uses for the K-9 Unit include tracking of individuals, building searches, and drug detection. The dog lives with his handler, which allows them to both work and train together.

In October 2011, Officer Jason Ruppert was chosen to be the Department's K-9 handler and traveled to New Mexico to begin training with his K-9 partner, Duke, a Belgian Malinois.

One of the primary jobs of the K-9 Unit is drug detection. Over the years, the K-9 Unit has conducted drug searches at Eau Claire North High School, Eau Claire Memorial High School, Altoona High School, Bloomer Middle and High Schools, Chippewa Alternative School, and the Eau Claire Academy.

The K-9 Unit has also assisted the following agencies in their effort to control illegal drug trafficking:

- Dunn County Sheriff's Office
- Eau Claire County Sheriff's Office
- United States Postal Service
- University of Wisconsin—Eau Claire Police Department
- West Central Drug Task Force
- Wisconsin Department of Revenue
- Wisconsin State Patrol

Duke also assists with patrol work by conducting area searches, building searches, tracking, wind scents, assisting with felony car stops, and more. During their shift, Officer Ruppert and Duke respond to calls where Duke may be able to assist in the apprehension of felony suspects. Duke can also assist with both commercial and residential alarms, fleeing suspects, fights, and domestic disputes. Additionally, Duke has received tactical training and assists the Department's Tactical Response Team whenever needed.

Since its inception in 1998, the Eau Claire Police Chaplains have volunteered to serve and partner with the officers of the Eau Claire Police Department. They are a resource to officers who, in the course of their duties, encounter persons in crisis. They also serve as a resource to those in our community whose lives have been broken by violence or tragedy.

Chaplains provide the following services:

- Assisting officers with death notification
- Assisting with homicides and suicides, fatal or serious injury crashes, and other critical incidents
- Serving as a resource for personal issues of Department personnel

Officer Todd Johnson works with Head Chaplain Laura Kelley to provide program coordination. The Chaplains meet monthly for ongoing training and have a rotating on-call schedule, making them available on a 24-hour basis.

Chaplains are also encouraged to participate in the life of the Department; being part of the happy times and being present during times of tragedy. The Chaplains also generously hosted the seventh annual Holiday Gathering for Police Department personnel and their families.

The Mission Statement and Core Values of the Police Chaplaincy Program are as follows:

mission statement

Spiritual care is offered to every officer and citizen, especially in times of crisis, through a ministry of presence, service and compassion.

core values

The Core Values of the Police Chaplaincy program include: ministry of presence, spiritual support, leadership, commitment to quality and pursuit of excellence through professional growth and development.

police chaplaincy program

The field-training of newly hired police officers is a critical function performed by members of the Eau Claire Police Department's Police Training Officer (PTO) program. The PTO program consists of 17 officers and ten supervisors who are dedicated to the mentoring and development of new officers. The skills that new officers develop during this program lay the foundation for their careers.

The PTO training model was developed by the United States Department of Justice to complement Problem-Oriented Policing and Community-Oriented Policing philosophies. PTO training uses adult learning strategies, emphasizes critical thinking, and develops problem solving skills. The PTO training model supports the Eau Claire Police Department's Problem-Oriented Policing philosophy.

A newly hired officer begins the PTO program after completing his or her recruit academy training. During the PTO program, the new officer is partnered with several field-training officers over a 15 week period. The program focuses on learning objectives such as leadership, conflict resolution, officer safety, communication skills, and legal procedures. As the training program progresses, the learning objectives for the new officer become more challenging.

During a new officer's field-training he or she must also identify a problem within our community and develop a plan to address the problem. At the conclusion of the training program, the new officer presents his or her project to a panel consisting of the Chief of Police, the Deputy Chief of Patrol, the Deputy Chief of Detectives, Director of Administration, Communication Center Director, as well as their training officers. Eau Claire Police Officers who have completed this training program have implemented plans that have reduced crime in specific neighborhoods, prevented crime and disorder, decreased car crashes at certain intersections, and improved traffic safety in a school safety zone.

The Police Training Officer Program fits well with the Department's mission and problem-solving efforts. The efforts, dedication and skill of the field-training officers ensure our officers have quality training as they embark on their careers to enhance the quality of life in our community.

The Eau Claire Police Department's Tactical Response Team was formed in 1991. The team is currently comprised of 24 members, all of whom have other full-time assignments within the Department. The benefit of drawing members of the team from throughout the Department is that at any given time it is likely that several team members will be working, thereby being available for immediate response to high-risk situations.

In order to become a member of the Tactical Response Team, an officer must have a minimum of two years of experience with the Eau Claire Police Department. Officers interested in joining the team must complete a written application, participate in an interview process, and successfully complete a physical fitness and firearms proficiency course.

In addition to the standard firearms training that every officer in the department is given, each Tactical Response Team member must train for an additional eight hours per month. Certain team members receive additional training throughout the year, including those with specialty assignments such as Sniper/Observers and Gas Munitions Technicians.

Whether in training or at actual events, the officers of the Tactical Response Team take their role as tactical operators very seriously. The team is proud to offer the citizens of Eau Claire the protection of an experienced and well-supported tactical team.
